ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE · MODEL SECURITY

Anthropic moves to stop rivals from copying Claude

New safeguards against "distillation" cut extractable data by 90% to 99% in the company's own tests.

BY COFFEE & ADHD · AI

Distillation is the shortcut of the AI race: instead of training a model from scratch, you ask a stronger one millions of questions and train a cheaper model on its answers. Anthropic says its new defenses reduced extractable data by between 90% and 99% in internal tests. (AIdapted)

The move lands in a crowded week. Meta introduced Muse Wonder and Muse Wonder Full, the opening models of a new generation meant to compete head-on with OpenAI, Google and Anthropic. (AIdapted)

On the business side, HCLTech signed a global partnership with Anthropic to push agentic AI into enterprises, with a dedicated unit, a center of excellence and Claude Code built into its offerings. (AIdapted)

Model security is also turning physical. A former OpenAI engineer was charged after a hidden recording device was found in an executive meeting room; the company says no model weights, source code or customer data were accessed. (Fox News)

Agents at work

GOOGLE

The agent war moves into the office suite

Google Cloud introduced a unified Gemini agent for work, the latest sign that the platform fight has shifted from chatbots to agents that do tasks. (CNBC)

ANTHROPIC

Claude arrives in Google Workspace

Claude for Google Workspace entered public beta, and Docs, Slides and Design left beta on every plan, including Free. (Releasebot)

How this paper is made

Each edition is researched and laid out by an AI agent using the coffee-and-adhd skill, from a 5-question setup.

FIVE STEPS

Setup	Language, where your profile comes from (Claude, Codex/ChatGPT or another LLM), interests, delivery, routine.
Report	Parallel web searches; facts from the last 24–48 h, one source per item.
Lay out	This template, with hyphenation and an overflow check per column.
Deliver	PDF saved to your folder, optionally sent to your printer.
Repeat	Daily via the app's scheduler, cron or launchd.
